There will be no financial injury to anyone or to any department that may be forced to postpone for the next two years or more to make ends meet. Fact is, the lesson that is to be learned through such an experience is to have its beneficial effects. It is such in the case of the Federal Government, and it is not unreasonable to expect that individuals

The name, so the report goes, was given by a committee of early settlers at the request of the railroad which was putting a line through here. The economical vote to the railroad, in reply, read: "Belle Glade-Chosen." The railroad put the name through as Belle Glade-Chosen and so it stands, even today!

(This is the second of a series of letters from the editor's brother, who is at present on the $3,000,000 yacht, "Sea Cloud," which belongs to the U. S. Ambassador to Belgium. At present, they are cruising in European waters.)

May 17, 1938

Dear Paul:

We left England last Friday and arrived in Belgium on Saturday. We are in Antwerp tonight but expect to leave at midnight for someplace, probably Dover, England. The owners came aboard at 11:00 p. m. and all is disorder and excitement. We have just been told to go to bed and get all the sleep that we can as we have a lot of work to do tonight. It is 7:00 o'clock now, and I'll write more tomorrow.

We arrived in Dover yesterday afternoon. It is a very beautiful place with high cliff cliffs and valleys and hills and ravines back inland. Went up into an old castle to look around last night. The sun didn't set until about 9:00 but it is terribly cold here. We have had one cold storm day since arriving in Europe. The captain told some of the fellows to get some underwear as we are going to Norway, Sweden, and into the Arctic Ocean to see the midnight sun. Tomorrow night or Sunday night we'll sail for Copenhagen.

P.S. We may be coming back in four or five weeks. I may catch another ship from Europe to China or Japan and then to the U. S. across the Pacific. Anywhere there are two ships in Antwerp that are leaving for China and Japan in a little less than a month and each needs an entire new crew. I could get on but I don't know whether to or not.
